Blindness - Normalcy Is Possible

of the Center.

In providing the facility, Lions worked in close cooperation agency at the state level.

From the original expenditude of $230,000 by the Lions of Virginia, a small portion of this debt remains unpaid . . . so when White Cane Days come around this year and the Lions are out selling brooms (brooms that are made by the blind) dig down deep in support of these projects. Funds raised by the Lions Clubs have made this new Center possible and people in communities who have contributed and will continue to contribute can have a hand in what is being done for the blind and we can all feel proud because we, too, have played a small part in helping through our local Lions Club.

Editor's Note: We express thanks to the Farmville Herald for supplying some of the information in this article and to Dr. C. G. O'Brien for his assistance.

Purpose Behind FHA

The Appomattox SeniorChapter Future Homemakers of America held their monthly meeting on April 2, 1975. For the program a major emphasis was put on the eight FHA purposes. Each officer was given a purpose and assigned to a group of members. The group took approximately eight to ten minutes to explain, discuss and prepare a short skit pertaining to their particular purpose. Each skit performed gave a clear understanding of all the purposes. This type of program was very successful as it gave all the members a chance to be involved.

In the picture above the FHA officers and members are illustrating a purpose- To improve the function of the family as a basic unit of society. Teresa Cyrus and Carla Varner represent the unity and teamwork it takes to support a firm foundation for a family. Kaye Chenault and Delorious Deaner show how talking out problems can relieve and comfort family members so tension is not built up. Kathy O'Brien points to Teresa and Carla as the firm foundation is the key to a happy family.

Teresa Cyrus, Reporter

Future Homemakers of America throughout Virginia will observe Virginia FHA/HERO, April 13-19. Appomatox FHA members join more than 14,000 other yung men and women members in the State in demonstrating projects that have real value for youth in preparation for future responsibilities in home economics related occupations and in homemaking.

Inter-related with the home economics education program in Virginia secondary schools FHA/HERO provides meaning and motivation for youth working toward educational goals related to vocational home economics educaton and reaches beyond classroom instruction into the home and community.

State President, Carla Varner, a senior at Appomattox County High School, explained that the overall goal of the organization is "to help youth assume their roles in society through home economics in areas of personal growth, family life, vocational preparation, and community involvement. "In other words," she said, "it helps us develop leadership promote good citizenship, and prepare for the vital work of our country. In our FHA and HERO chapter meetings, we analyze member concerns and then develop what we call in-depth projects that are related to our home economics classes today. It isn't just cooking and sewing it's learning about living, teaching us how to cope with the dual role of homemaker and wage earner in today's fast-paced society During this week we want to impress on people the importance of vocational education and of Future Homemakers of America as a part of home economics education in preparing us for future living. .

The Appomattox Junior and Senior chapters are working together on some events during FHA/HERO Week. The theme for the Junior chapter is Young and Growing and their program of work is centered around personal growth. The officers of the Junior Chapter are Donna Cawthorne, President; Beth Carter, Vice-President; Rohonda Nash, Vice-President; Penny Elliott, Vice President; Cheryl Conner, Secretary; Debbie Edmonds, Treasurer; Pam Smith, Reporter; Sherri Covington, Parlimentar i u m; Connie Taylor, Historian, and Pam Taylor, Federation Representative.

The programs and activities of the Senior Chapter have been centered around the eight purposes of the Future Homemakers organization. The officers are Carla Varner, President; Cindy Guill, Vice President; Debbie Morrell, Vice President; Kay Chenault, Vice President; Janet Booth, Secretary; Janice Giles, Treasurer; Teresa Cyrus, Reporter; Donna Cyrus, Historian; Robin Tomlin; Betty Cheatham, Parlimentarium; and Kathy O'Brien, Federation Secretary.

Membership in Future Homemaker chapters & HERO chapters in Virginia has increased greatly over the 14,495 members in 340 chapters during the past school year. Figures on membership for 1974-75 are not complete at this time.

Officers of the Virignia Association, Future Homemakers of America are: President, Carla Varner, Appomatox County High School; Vice President, Cynthia Bryant, Franklin High School; Vice President, Muriel Freeman, Ladysmith High School, HERO Vice President, Dottie Davis, Massanutten Vocational Technical Center; Secretary, Mary Edwards, Tabb High School; Treasurer, Susan Kennedy, Montevideo High School; Reporter, Deborah Kleese, Fort Chiswell High School; and Historian, Susan Henley, Patrick Henry High School (Hanover)

Emphases selected by chapters in Virginia during this school year are related to Teenage consumer, Family Living, Time and Energy Management, world of work, personal growth, community involvement, morals and manners matter and new horizons.

There are two types of Future Homemakers of America in Virignia. FHA chapters place major emphasis on consumer education, homemaking and family life education combined with exploration of jobs and careers, HERO chapters, taking the name from home economics related occupations, place major emphasis on preparation for jobs and careers with recognition that workers also fill multiple roles as homemakers and community leaders.

Future Homemakers of America is sponsored by the State Department of Edication and local school divisons. High school home economics teachers and members of the State home economics education staff serve as advisors to chapter, state and national youth officers, giving guidance and counseling to the program..
